

On the afternoon of a true March 12, there was enacted off Halifax a strange drama of the sea, repeated with all the boat traditions of "these who live down to the sea in ships." The salvage ship Montreal, bound on the way to aid a vessel in distress, became a wreck and sent out an S.O.S., which was picked up by the Canadian Pacific liner Montreal, bound from Liverpool to Halifax. Captain A. Rothwell, her commander, at once altered course and raced to the sinking Montreal. When within two miles, volunteers were called for and a lifeboat—under command of Second Officer H. B. Knight, built with wind and high seas for nearly four hours to reach the stricken ship. Captain Rothwell handed the Montreal so as to make a lee for the rescuers and kept oil going in their tracks. Captain Featherstone and his crew of 12 men, who were on duty, were taken off by the ship to say nothing of a police dog, which was safely taken off and the return trip to the Montreal built in about 46 minutes, thanks to the wind. The shipwreck victims were given a rousing welcome and their rescuers cheered to the echo by the Montreal's passengers, who witnessed the entire event. Later, a purse was taken up for the volunteers and a silver cigarette presented to Second Officer Knight. A telegram was then sent to E. W. Healey, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, commending the rescue work. The upper picture shows the crew of the Montreal with Captain Rothwell and Second Officer Knight. In uniform. Below (Captain Rothwell and Captain Featherstone). Lower middle shows the brave men who manned the Montreal's lifeboat. In the foreground are Second Officer Knight and Captain Rothwell. SCHOOL FAIR
FOR GEM

While school fairs in other districts have been cancelled this year because of lack of funds, it is pleasant to note that the Gem and district school fair officials decided to find the money somewhere and give the boys and girls their school fair.

It takes money to hold a school fair, but rather than deprive the children of this interesting and educational annual event, the Gem and district school fair officials decided to find the money somewhere and give the boys and girls their school fair.

SOMETHING WRONG WITH ELECTRIC SERVICE

The people of Bassano have reason to complain of the electric service they are now getting from the Calgary Power Company.

Complaints were laid many weeks ago and the company promised that this trouble would be remedied.

But we still have fluctuating current and times when the current is entirely cut off.

Consumers are growing tired of this sort of thing. They pay for service and they are entitled to get it.

When severe storms a few weeks ago disrupted the power lines due allowance was made by the consumers for such annual occurrences. Now, however, there has surely been sufficient time to make all repairs and deliver a steady flow of current without interruption.

A TREE PLAN FOR IRRIGATED FARMERS

A suggestion was recently made by a Bassano business man that the C. P. R. adopt a tree planting scheme for irrigated land, a scheme that would considerably increase the value of the land and at the same time enable the farmer to help pay the cost of his farm.

The plan would provide for the planting of trees on irrigated land under the direction and supervision of competent company officials. Every spring, for a period of say, three or four years, the trees would be inspected, a report turned in to head office, and the farmer allowed a certain sum for every healthy tree grown under the company's supervision.

The farmer would be credited with that sum as a payment on the cost of the land.

Under this plan the growing of trees would increase the value of the land and at the same time the farmer would pay off some of his indebtedness to the company. It would be an inducement for the irrigation farmer to improve and beautify his farm and help pay for the land in the process. The company would gain by encouraging further settlement, and also by encouraging industry and pride of ownership among the farmers, most important factors in the happiness and prosperity of any community.

The suggestion is interesting and worthy of investigation.

No Morn. Needed

An easterner on a visit to the west decided to go horseback riding. The hostler who was to attend him asked: "Do you prefer an English saddle or a western?"

"What's the difference?" asked the easterner.

"The western saddle has a horn," replied the attendant.

"I don't think I'll need the horn," said the easterner. "I don't intend to ride in heavy traffic."

WOMAN MAKES BOAT

FLIGHT OVER ATLANTIC
 CULMORE, Ireland, May 23.—Annie Margaret Putnam brought down her red and gold monoplane in a field on the house side of Lough Pyle this afternoon, and thereby became the first woman to fly by the Atlantic alone.

She landed on this side of the ocean five years to the day after Lindbergh, arrived at Le Bourget, France, successfully completing her first New York to Paris solo flight.

"I've done it," Mrs. Putnam exclaimed, when she got out of her ship.

She made the trip of approximately 1,500 miles in 15 hours and 35 minutes.

She had trouble with the exhaust manifold for about 10 hours," the Press Association quoted Mrs. Putnam, "and for a lot of the way I was flying through storms, mist, and rain."

Mrs. Putnam, who was Miss Amelia Barbert before her marriage to the well known publisher, first flew the Atlantic a few years ago as a passenger.

On that occasion the plane and its three occupants fell into the sea near the European coast and was picked up by a passing steamer.

DIVERSED GRAIN TRAFFIC

VALUED AT TEN MILLIONS

WINNIPEG, May 23.—Western delegates to the British Empire economic conference will press very hard for some action that will result in all Canadian grain taken from the Kingsmen, moving out through a port in the Dominion.

During the seven months of the 1931-32 crop year 46,706,330 bushels of Canadian wheat were exported to the United Kingdom. Over the western route the Canadian Pacific ports handled 18,418,677 bushels.

But of the grain that went eastward for export, 49,286,643, the Canadian Atlantic ports received only 11,028,272 bushels. Atlantic ports of the U. S. getting 37,258,371.

Exporters of the grain exchange estimate that if the amount of domestic grain, which the United States handled had gone to tide water over Canadian water and rail routes some 116,000,000 more cash would have been paid for services in Canada.

GREAT BEAR LAKE HUMS WITH MINING ACTIVITY

LINDSEY BAY, Great Bear Lake, May 19.—Development work is continuing busily in the Labine Point

Glacier Bay section. Consolidated Shelters are working on their silver shelter with first class results, and at Eldorado one of his new five after and high-bowls are being steadily packed preparatory to shipment outside.

New tents are rising constantly, lots are being hauled for the store, restaurant, and already base, lamp, and other well-saved, and some teach a half-completed hull marks the first product of the miniature shipyard.

Spring has come to Great Bear Lake. In the last week the ice has been breaking up. The ice has been breaking up since last October, arriving at their ranks to the eager army of prospectors who have been pinning at the few exposed surfaces since midwinter.

Travel has been restricted to the night. It is, as a matter of fact, never dark, the sun merely dips below the rim of the lake between 10:30 p.m. to 5 a.m.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR LINDBERGH KIDNAPERS

Following the startling admission last week by John Hughes Curtis, one of the three kidnap negotiators who had been brought to the return of the Lindberghs, police are continuing their search for the kidnapers. Curtis admitted that his story of being in touch with the kidnapers was a hoax perpetrated for the purpose of selling the story to newspapers. He was charged with a charge of giving false information and interfering with justice. It is now reported the charges may be dropped.

The other two negotiators who were assisting Curtis are not implicated in the hoax, according to Curtis' story, they knew nothing but what he had told them.

720,000 UNEMPLOYED IN CANADA
IN MONTH OF MARCH

TORONTO, May 23.—The measure of unemployment in Canadian industries this spring has been about 25 per cent of their total working force.

Leaving out the farmers about one Canadian in three was out of a job in March.

This is the disturbing conclusion drawn from data by professors G. E. Jackson and H. M. Cassidy, of Toronto University, and presented by them in a discussion of unemployment problems at Monday's meeting of the Canadian Political Science Association.

They did not offer it as an absolute total of the unemployed. No one has been actually able to "count noses" except the government in last year's census, and its results with regard to unemployment have never been published.

WHEAT BELT DRENCHED
BY HEAVY RAINFALL

WINNIPEG, May 23.—The prairie wheat belt was wetter today than it has been in several years.

Showers, downpours, and cloudbursts soaked Saskatchewan and Alberta grain lands yesterday and Saturday in a manner that left the hopeful farmer with a firm conviction that drought would not be one of his worries this season.

A heavy downpour soaked the great grain growing belt of south Saskatchewan.

HEAVY STORM DAMAGE
IN ALBERTA OVER WEEK-END

Assaulted by hail, rain, and fire, the Storm King event over southern Alberta during the week-end.

During his passage a century of destruction was visited upon a line of about 100 miles. A school building near Brathmore was burned to the ground, thousands of windows shattered, and a school building near Brathmore was burned to the ground, thousands of windows shattered, and a school building near Brathmore was burned to the ground, thousands of windows shattered.

Early Sunday morning the Alberta Pool station at Kenna, about 30 miles northeast of Calgary, was struck by lightning and burned with a loss of about $15,000.

The Harwood school, near Brathmore, was struck by lightning Saturday and burned. The structure was valued at $2,000 to $3,000.

Subways were flooded in Calgary when more than two and a half inches of rain fell.

FOREST FIRES IN MANTOBA
AND NORTHERN SASK.

WINNIPEG, May 21.—Serious forest fires are still raging in northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan, hourly destroying hundreds of acres of valuable timber.

Minor fire break out almost as quickly as others are brought under control, and H. I. Stevenson, director of forestry service, Manitoba government, stated they were of incendiary origin.

So serious has the fire at Poncha Reservoir become that it is feared it will sweep the entire north-land unless rains come to check the blaze.

THE CASE OF THE MISSING M. AYRES

SEVENTH INSTALLMENT

In a few years time he would be a fine-looking man. She quite agreed with the creature for some time in her assertion that he was a very grown-up seventeen.

His face lit up when she spoke to him now.

"I'm only going over to the other side of the village," he said.

"Well, take me," she urged again. He reached down a slender brown hand, which seemed somehow odd out of keeping with his rough, almost childlike appearance, and carefully helped Diana into the high back seat beside him.

"Carefully," she said, "do you know where Dr. Rathbone's house is?"

"Carefully," he said, "Yes, I know."

Diana turned an eager face to him.

"Let's go there," she said, "it should be more than five miles away."

The last installment.

"But that's nothing in a trap like this."

"I know," but won't they miss you?"

"I dare say, but that doesn't matter," she said, "I'll be back in an hour."

Diana was a little disappointed to find that the man's house stood so far back from the road that, even when they had driven round to the front of it, she could only catch a glimpse between the trees of pointed roof eaves and quiet Japanese chimney pots.

She stood up in the little trap, her hand resting on Joan's shoulder, but even then beyond splashes of vivid coloring here and there in the garden, most of it was effectively shut out by a high brick wall which had many trees and shrubs planted on its near side.

"She said down there," Diana said, "a little disappointed."

Joan was pulling the trap to the side of the road to avoid a big car that had just at that moment emerged from the house. The road was not very wide at that point, and there was hardly room for the two to pass in safety.

"How dangerous to drive at that speed," Diana said, and at the same moment recognised Rathbone's car. She turned eagerly to look after it as it with a wide sweep it pulled up to the closed gate.

The back hood of the landaulet was down, and sitting there alone was a young woman with reddish hair, very young woman with Titian red hair; but only when the trap had come to a stop before the trap was round bend and the car hidden from view.

"That was Dr. Rathbone's car," she said in a small voice.

"Was it?" Joan was not interested in the closed gate.

"There was a woman in it," Diana said.

"Is there?" "It's the one who lives at the house, I expect."

He asked rather abruptly:

"What was the very worst thing you wish to see me about?"

"Diana flushed a little, and the flush faded quite away, leaving her pale but before."

"I've told you."

"You've told me?"

"Yes, but I didn't want you to go away."

"You brought me ten miles to tell me that?"

"Yes—at least, I'm only five, but I suppose so. Oh, are you angry?"

"Are you ever going to learn something?" he asked whimsically.

"Self-reliance?"

"I mean," he explained, "that if you don't do it, you can't do it. It's not people's fault; there's a danger of being late."

Diana shook her head, a little wavering smile on her lips.

"You've never let anybody down, have you?"

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

More than 3,000 people, of all ages, are the majority of those who have been the beneficiaries of the various educational and health maintaining measures of the department.

The exhibits were known as the "Food at Low Cost" exhibit, and were displayed at Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer and High River.

"Before recently appeared by the nursing branch of the provincial hospital, department, and charge of the exhibits, indicate the intense interest displayed by the general public in the effort to provide practical information along the lines mentioned, due obviously to the present strong urge for economy in household affairs."

"The food at low cost" exhibit was made up for a family of five, two adults and three children.

"The exhibit was demonstrated by cooking, and serving three meals, each day for one week. The meals were prepared by the health department, assisted by Miss Patrick, director of household economics at the university."

"The suggestion contained in the exhibit of meals was that every dollar spent by the household on food should be divided in the following percentages:—

"Milk and cream, 32 per cent; bread, cereal, flour, 16 per cent; meat, fish, eggs, 17 per cent; vegetables and fruit, 35 per cent."

TENNIS IS SPURRED BY FREQUENT RAINSTORMS

Frequent showers during the past week have greatly interfered with tennis and other sports.

Last Friday afternoon the school girls were just getting their little tournament underway when a heavy shower drove them off and ended the contest.

The courts got such a wetting Saturday, Sunday, and Monday that they did not dry out until this afternoon, Wednesday.

Word came from Brooks that the tennis tournament, planned there for May 24th had to be postponed because of the showery weather and wet courts.

RAIN CALIBRA POSTPONEMENT OF GLEICHEN SPORTS DAY

Heat and cold temperatures caused postponement of the Gleichen sports day and baseball tournament scheduled for last Tuesday, May 24.

The Barraboo ball team was to have played in the tournament.

As we go to press we have received no authoritative information regarding the new date set for the sports day. It is rumored the date is next Wednesday, June 1st, but no confirmation was made of this.

THE PICTURES

When it is said that "The Squaw Man," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and "Ben Hur" are listed together as the three most popular plays America has produced, some idea can be had of the value of the dramatic property first mentioned.

"The Squaw Man," by Edwin Milton Royle, is one of America's great stage classics. It has been played thousands of times in stock and on the road. The values of the drama, split fifty-fifty between England and America, seem to increase rather than diminish with the passing of the years.

Cecil B. DeMille's current Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presentation of this play, scheduled to show at his Orpheum Theatre this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, May 26, 27, and 28, is said to present with special strength the numerous dramatic situations of the play.

The story, adapted by Lenora J. Coffee, Lucien Hubbard and Elsie Janin, has been made with particular regard to new talkie technique. Warner Baxter, Lupe Velez, Eleanor Boardman and Charles Bickford head the cast which also includes Robert Young, Paul Cavert, Raymond Hatton, Julia Faye, DuWitt Jennings, J. Carroll McDonough, Dickie Moore and others.

Dramatic highlights in the story include:

—The discovery by Jim that Sir Henry has taken charity funds of the regiment;

—Jim's flight to America to save Diana, Henry's wife, from disgrace;

—the debate of Capt. Hawkins to Jim at the cattle ranch;

—the saving of Natchik, the squaw, from the advances of Hawkins;

—Hawkins' plan to shoot Jim from the rear, but to shoot himself;

—the death of Sir Henry at an English fox hunt and his confession;

—the arrival of Diana at Jim's ranch to find him married to an Indian; and the father of a half-breed son;

—the attempt to explain to Natchik why his must go to England with little Hal;

—the arrival of the posse with proof that Natchik killed Hawkins.

The scenic inventiveness of the story is divided between a wonderful English castle, and the now district of Arizona. Usual camera effects were secured by special and new photographic devices.

For the man went down the fan "The Cuban Love Song," with Lawrence Tibbett and an all star cast, is coming to Barraboo Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of next week, June 2, 4, and 5.
